NATURAL MOMENTS ISSUE

Summer is almost over and the last VOLO pool party was a blast (Hope you followed us on Instagram @volomag @vologlam) - Videos still coming out on the VOLOVault.

We wanted to take a break from water and hot summer bodies to bring you this issue which focuses on capturing women in the secluded security of their homes and then contrasting it with complete boldness where she goes nude and bold into the beautiful outdoors.

This is the second VOLO Magazince cover for model Kate Ri. We consider her to be one of the most beautiful women in the world today and the ease with which she projects her beauty is something all models need to learn from. The cover is shot by Albert Finch ,a young Polish Photographer who has garnered incredible fame for himself at a very young age. His style is classic & fashionable yet sensual and totally #VOLO.

This issue is soft and beautiful and close to my heart. Hope you enjoy it as much as we did while creating it.

JAMES ELLINGEN

"My passion for photography developed by accident. Growing up I loved comic books, so after high school, I went to art school to become a cartoonist. But I couldn't figure out how to draw women, so I took an intro to photography class and only intended for learning the basics so I could continue to work on my drawing. I first started photographing female friends of mine, and I loved capturing the female form and got excited to try lighting and shadowing and to come up with unique shapes and dynamic poses. I was hooked! Artistic nude photography is where I started, and in 2002 I went full force into glamour, shooting for a local magazine. I would usually try to do little Artistic projects on the side but, in the past year, I have focused on artistic nudes again. I have moved around a lot, the last decade, always looking for new places to create my images. 20 years of photography, through many ups and downs in my life, art has always been the one thing that has kept me going. Other than that I enjoy movies, especially those based on comic books, even though they almost always ruin the actual story line."

"I am a 28-year-old mother of a 3-year-old princess and a 5-year-old frat boy. When I am not toddler wrangling or finishing my bachelors in accounting, I can be found bar tending or imbibing at Columbus's best nightclub. I love cooking, bedazzling, and going to concerts of pretty much any variety. I like to work hard play hard, and I like making people laugh. Life is too short to be grumpy!

I met James a decade ago when he found my Polaroid picture on an "under 21" board at a club I worked at and wanted to shoot with me. Thanks to him I got into a few of Playboy's special editions and started promotional modeling, which got me traveling all over the US. Over the years we have kept in touch and shot a variety of things including maternity and family portraits. For me, this last shoot was very intimidating, because I have mostly done glamor. But after looking at pictures on the Volo Magazine website, I fell in love with the idea of being glamorous and artistic. A refined and sexy way to celebrate the beauty of the female figure. James has always been my favorite photographer to shoot with because he takes such beautiful pictures of women. I am so proud and privileged to say that he is my life photographer and friend. I hope you all enjoy these photos as much as I enjoyed shooting them and thank you so much for your consideration!."

“My name is Maria, I come from Buenos Aires, Argentina.

At the moment, I am based in Berlin, after living in other countries such Spain and Mexico City, where my career grew very fast.

I have already been modeling for 13 years, started making tv when I was just a teen so it is obvious that I love what I do, and till today have the same passion for it.

My type of pictures is going from Fashion up to art nude. And I have work in a lot of fields, so I can adapt my self very fast to achieve what my client ask for: TV advertising, catwalks as in Fashion Week Buenos Aires and Mexico, showrooms, calendars, Covers as Playboy Mexico, Argentina, Cosmopolitan, Maxim, magazine editorials, body paintings, Bondage you name it... But I’m always looking for more.”

"I was born in Pennsylvania and now resides in Arizona. I am a self-taught photographer, has been shooting since childhood. I started out shooting landscapes, and around 2001 started shooting nudes and havenít looked back. Over the years I have managed to shoot with numerous models and created some unique images. Inspiration for my photographer comes from the classical works of renaissance paintings, with a strong sense of light and color. In addition to shooting nudes, I also shoot infrared photography and often I combine the two."

DARIUS OLLISON

"My name is Darius Ollison. My journey in photography started back in college. I remember I would obsess over photographs on Flickr for hours on end before I even picked up a camera. The sunsets were so beautiful in the small town where my college was, and I would always try to take photos with my cell phone. They never quite came out how I wanted so I eventually got a DSLR the summer after my junior year. Photographing anything and just trying to get better quickly became an obsession. After about three years I decided to focus on portrait work. I was influenced heavily by great photographers like Stefan Beutler and Andre Josselin. The thing that always keeps me coming back to portrait photography is the interaction between model and photographer. Now and then you work with a model who just understands your artwork and what you are pursuing. The two of you just vibe on a deep level so much so that your ideas begin to mesh during the shoot. Eventually, your ideas are her ideas as if she is an extension of your mind. The movements you want her to make she makes as if she is an extension of your body. I love that moment because it's so real, so raw and so honest. Interactions like that don't happen often. To take a look at the inside of a person and get a glimpse of their soul and to share yours in the process is one of the most beautiful experiences."

KIMBERLY NICOLE

"My love for modeling spawned from my love for photography. I first picked up a camera for the sake of making art when I was 14-- an old film camera that I found at Goodwill. I would ask friends to pose for me, and I would shoot them in mainly monochrome; I loved how the lack of color drew attention to the lines and shadows of the body. The human figure is a landscape that can be interpreted in so many incredible ways; and so eventually I found myself in front of the camera, in love with the feeling of creating art with the curves of my body and being able to project a mood visually. Modeling is a kind of catharsis that takes you out of your head and puts you in the place reserved solely for artistic expression, and that is my absolute favorite place to be."

LADY OF THE HOUSE

DANE HALO shot by LUC RODERIQUE

The story is about that of a young woman, constrained by the strict ideals of the age she has lived in, all her life. Witnessing the blossoming of a new era might give her the rights and personal freedoms she has longed for her entire life. So one day, when her family is away, and she is left alone and to her own devices, she literally and figuratively strips away the tight confines of her corset, as well as the rules which society has placed upon her, and confidently (if only for a short while) becomes the ruler of her home and her world on her own terms.

LUC RODERIQUE

Luc grew up in Canada's capital; Ottawa, Ontario. He first gained a love and appreciation for photography at a young age from his mother. They would bond and grow closer over a shared love of visual storytelling, while she taught him the ins and outs of loading, shooting, and processing film. Luc would later leave this love behind for many years to explore other artistic avenues and has spent the majority of his career thus far working as an actor in theatre, film, television, and voice. Recently his love for photography has re-emerged and has quickly become a huge source of artistic excitement and inspiration. One of the main lessons Luc has gleaned from working across artistic platforms is that story always comes first. And to have the chance to tell the stories of the people and communities around him using the medium of light and color brings him no end of joy. Luc is drawn to the beautiful and the evocative in his work. That which stirs something up in the soul and is not always definable. He is currently mainly inspired by portraiture, art nudes, and nature photography, diving into these worlds to continue learning and honing his craft; and hopefully to add something unique to the incredible community of artists around him. Luc now resides and works primarily out of Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada.

DANE HALO

Canada's Dane Halo is an accomplished freelancing model, specializing in artistic nudes since the beginning of her 9-year career. Attending a prestigious high school for the arts as a visual artist in Ontario, Canada, Dane developed her skills in painting, drawing, sculpture, photography and graphic design, and grew increasingly fascinated with chiaroscuro - the play of light and shadow - across the human body. While drawing the nude figure of a model who sat in the centre of her high school classroom, amongst her peers, Dane decided that she would one day want to see how other artists perceived the shadows across her own figure. Mere months following her 18th birthday, she began modelling for local classes. Soon thereafter, she moved to Toronto to began her full-fledged career. Dane's fascination with the arts continues, as she is now also a successful photographer, painter, makeup artist and graphic designer. But what would a career be without goals? Dane has travelled through Asia, Europe and North America, but hopes to model on every continent by the age of 30. With plans for Australia and Antarctica coming together for 2018, she will be far closer to her goal!

THE MONGOL

ROSA shot by VARUN BONDWAL

The idea was to capture the innocence of this delicate Mongolian beauty and then gradually transition to more beautiful images. It belongs in VOLO because it contains the sensuality and innocence of a nude woman in a tasteful form, which VOLO exemplifies in other editorials, yet it's different because the model is a rare beauty from central Asia.

VOLOMAGAZINE.COM

VARUN BONDWAL

Varun's stint with photography started by shooting landscapes in India. He got introduced to portraits later on and instantly fell in love. He feels there's much more inherent character in the image of a person than of a building or landscape.

He does photography as a serious hobby and worked in the visual effects industry on the technical side, and has been credited in few movies including VFX Oscar winning Life of Pi. He is a self-taught photographer, and his style of work is portraiture which highlights female beauty and form, including nude and fantasy-style images as well as natural light portraits.

His process involves lots of pre-production and then shooting at his home-studio in Sydney.

FIELDIES FAIRY

LEXIE SAPP shot by MONTANA YOUNG

“Lexie was so naturally beautiful when firstv I saw her. I wanted her stripped down in an open field close to sunset. Her movements were so ethereal she literally looked like she was floating in front of my lens. Everything is so natural and beautiful and I think that is what VOLO is about.” -- Montana Young

MONTANA YOUNG

"My name is Montana Evan Young. I am a 28-year-old, female photographer located in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. I am lucky enough to have found my passion early on in life, and I never take it for granted. Taking pictures of women nude, at their most natural state, with nothing to hide is extremely empowering. There is something so raw and innocent about women nude in nature, both with nothing to hide. Creating strong, beautiful, and empowering images for women and myself is what I have always wanted to do. I strive to be the best. There is an image of the famous photographer Imogen Cunningham, in her old age, taking a photograph of a nude woman. It has been my inspiration for my work and my work ethic since I was 15 years old. I graduated Salutatorian, from The Art Institute of Charlotte in June 2017, with associates in photography. It was a great joy getting out of school and focusing on my art, instead of focusing on technicalities and grades. I wish to continue to shoot images that I enjoy creating and people enjoying seeing. To be in VOLO would be a dream come true."

LEXIE SAPP

"Hi! My name is Lexie Sapp. I enjoy modeling because it's helped me become confident in who I am, allowing me to be my truest self; which I believe everyone should have the chance to be in life. It's made me open up to a variety of better things so far. I hope one day to sign with an agency, get to travel and pursue my dreams with self-expression. I'm a lover of all things nature and art. I've always loved photography growing up, and I found myself trying to capture everything. I also love the way humans can express themselves through art, whether it be things such as tattoos, paintings, etc. Some other things I am into are music, crystals, seeing new places, good books, fashion, meeting like minded people, and animals. I have a cute, small dog named Zeppelin (named after Led Zeppelin) and I am soon getting a kitten! I've had many animals growing up, and I believe they are the truest form of love there is. I'm grateful for the experiences I have had in this lifetime."
